Re.: Rayhawk's Chiropractic Website System

To whom it may concern:

Rayhawk Corporation is an outstanding leader in website development and medical branding. Ever since getting on board with Rayhawk, I've experienced nothing but amazing results. While I was initially skeptical about whether Rayhawk could deliver a world-class online experience at a fixed price-point, they certainly proved me wrong! After seeing the amount of research, time and money spent to develop innovative and creative solutions, I was astounded.

Within only 3 weeks of launching my new website, I was listed on Google's first page. In fact, when I did a Google search for a chiropractor in Beverly Hills (where my practice is located), my website was listed TWICE on the first page! Other web development firms and search engine "specialists" told me it would take up to six months to see any improvement in my online rankings. These so-call other experts were going to charge me thousands of dollars and take months to deliver what Rayhawk did in just a few weeks for a fraction of the cost.

Not only did I get the online exposure I needed, but Rayhawk also tracked all my visitors using Google Analytics. The results spoke for themselves, 84 unique visitors in the first month!

Initially, I was planning on going with a competitor, but now I can see that would have been a huge mistake. Not only are the images, writing and design top-notch, but Rayhawk also brings all these elements together in a unique fashion. I've had several compliments on my new website and could not have expected a greater return on investment than with Rayhawk. I would highly recommend them as not only a professional company but also as having amazing customer service that is literally accessible all the time. I could not be more ecstatic about the results that were achieved with my new website!

Thanks Rayhawk!
